THAT, GALILEO,
IS WHAT SHE SAID.

A cartoon illustration of two women having a conversation over coffee. The woman on the right, with long dark hair and a blue shirt, is speaking and gesturing with her hands. She is holding a white coffee cup in one hand and a small white object, possibly a cigarette or a piece of candy, in the other. A speech bubble above her contains the text: "FOR CARDIO I USUALLY DO THREE DOUBLE ESPRESSOS". The woman on the left, seen from the back, has long dark hair and is wearing a red top. The background is a solid teal color. The entire image is framed by a thick black border.

This image is a high-contrast, black-and-white scan of a surface. It features a complex, granular texture composed of numerous small, dark, irregularly shaped elements. A distinct, lighter-colored horizontal band cuts across the center of the image, suggesting a layer or a specific type of material. The overall effect is abstract and industrial.
